The continuous effort of faculty, staff, students and administration has led the Department to the path of excellence in academic through a number of achievements. The department today enjoys a prominent position amongst the other management Departments in universities. It has continuously contributed towards the creation and dissemination of knowledge in the area of business and management to the different target groups.

About the Department of Psychology: The Department of Psychology was established in 2012 when it was under the Postgraduate Regional Center, Jind, K.U. Kurukshetra. At the initial stage, intake of the department was 20. In July, 2014, the Postgraduate Regional Center was upgraded to become a university. Department of Psychology has increased its intake 50 and giving two years master degree. The department of Psychology having its advanced Psychological Testing, Experimental and Biofeedback labs along with standardized and latest versions of Equipments and Tests. The Department running different job orientated optional papers like Clinical Psychology, Guidance and Counseling, Cognitive Psychology, Personality Psychology, and Child Psychology. In 2014, Department of Psychology has also organized a sponsored seminar with the collaboration of departments of Management and English. In view of the future, department is planning to start diploma/certificate courses, and M. Phil. and Ph. D. research programmers. In continuation, the Department is also thrust to enhance the excellence in research and academic, through empirical and studies based on real social issues.

Description and Objective of the Workshop: In view of the growing complexities in academics and research, it is necessary to discuss and resolve the real issues. For this, researchers and academicians continuously emphasizing on research, publications and training. With the ever changing business and economic environment, customer taste and preferences, not only academics but business organizations have also felt the need for identifying and analyzing the rich and meaningful business and consumer data. Similarly, behavioral characteristics also significantly contribute in every set up of life. Whatever, to conduct and generalize findings on these issues, should be quantified in appropriate manners. Therefore, the theoretical and practical understanding and training on diversity of steps/ procedures of research methodology and statistical tools are required. Furthermore, using Statistical Package for Social Sciences (SPSS) software and AMOS would greatly provide the accuracy and facilitation in research and publications. It is also observed that the present era is full of multiplicity of causation. Therefore, to handle and observe these interactive causative factors and save the effort, money and time, computer based techniques should be applied. Hence, this workshop will be conducted in a highly interactive manner taking suitable hypothetical research problems, and their live computation through Statistical Package for Social Sciences (SPSS) software and AMOS. In the last, hopefully it can be assume that workshop definitely will provide the greater opportunity for the students, research scholars, and academicians to conduct empirical studies with genuine research methodology and required/appropriate statistical techniques using by prominent software.
