About Chaudhary Devi Lal Ji

Chaudhary Devi Lal, the greatest Haryanvi of the 20 century had a multifaceted personality. He was a great freedom fighter, an organizer par excellence and a great coalition builder who played an important role in the regional, the state and the national politics. He deserves to be called the Founder of Haryana State. He had not only submitted a memorandum for its formation to the States Reorganisation Commission in 1953 but also headed the All Parties Committee for the formation of Haryana in 1965. He had also argued for the formation of Haryana State before the Parliamentary Committee in 1966.

He had launched Nyaay Yuddh against Punjab Accord (1985) for protecting territorial interest of the State as well as for ensuring surplus water of Ravi and Beas for the farmers. He not only became the Deputy Prime Minister of India but also had been Chief Minister of Haryana twice. He was also the architect of social security programs in Haryana in the form of old age pension (Budhapa Pension) as well as by writing-off the loans of peasantry. His ideas have made a profound impact on the politics of the state. Needless to say, these are essentially integral to the political heritage of North India.
